

Lecture by Rabbi Jonathan Wittenberg of London
Liberal Judaism in Frankfurt

Wednesday, October 27, at 8:00 PM
Shi'ur-Room of our Synagogue

As you already know, our celebrations marking the centennial of the Westend Synagogue will end this coming Wednesday, October 27, with a lecture on liberal Judaism in Frankfurt by Rabbi Jonathan Wittenberg, grandson of Frankfurt's last liberal rabbi before World War II.

Rabbi Wittenberg is on a remarkable journey - much of it on foot accompanied by his dog. He has symbolically kindled a torch from the ner tamid of the Westend Synagogue, where his grandfather was rabbi for 30 years; he will carry the torch back to London, and with it will kindle the eternal light of his own, newly built synagogue. Thus a circle is closed and new, promising friendships are kindled.

Please use the entrance of the Jüdische Volkshochschule: Freiherr-vom-Stein-Str., to the left of the main entrance of the Westend Synagogue.
